

HIGHLANDER 1972

Renee,
You're a real sweet girl. I'm really happy that you and
I became good friends.
Don't forget all the good times we had trying out for Majorettes. Take "Keep Smiling"

Renee,
You a real sweet & friendly girl who I've just got to know in the past 2 years. I wish we would have been friends sooner.
Don't forget the time we went golfing. I never knew I could do so bad. Best of luck always.
Keep in touch after school's out.

Renee
 So a swift neighbor girl - who I didn't even know until this year - well I guess band was good for something which seems impossible! Don't ever forget all of our good times. I bet you didn't know Barbera existed till you met me! It's too bad I couldn't get something I got to know you and your bad habits. I'm really glad I got to know you so while your having sweet dreams - terrible wrap and rotten personalities.
 Dodge, Penny, Charlie, Clayton, and my blades - Dave, Dean, Don, howie you eyes now? Well good luck anyway and keep up with me if you can!
 Most of all don't forget - your good old friend!
 Begood kid, '73

Renee,
 even if your a little slow with English, Math, Band,
 tripping and even lunch.
 (not really) Take it easy or I'll be lost when you talk some. This is a miss. Stay the way you are and you'll go
 best in all you do.
 for. Keep smiling.

PLEASE, IF YOU DO NOT REMEMBER ME-DO SO
THIS. MY WISH IS FOR YOU CAN BE REACHED BY ONLY YOU; THROUGH PEACE AND AN UNDERSTANDING OF LIFE. EACH DAY OF YOUR LIFE IS ONE DAY CLOSER TO DEATH. BUT THAT SHOULD NOT MAKE YOU SAD FOR IT IS ALSO THE BEGINNING OF THE REST OF YOUR LIFE. LOOK FOR THE BEAUTY IN EVERYTHING AND YOU WILL NOT BE AFRAID.

BELIEVE IN YOURSELF EVEN THO YOU CANNOT BELIEVE IN THE WORLD FOR IN YOUR OWN HEART, YOU KNOW THAT YOU ARE RIGHT AND EVERYONE (INCLUDING ME) IS WRONG. AND THAT'S THE WAY IT SHOULD BE IF YOU ARE AT PEACE WITH YOURSELF. BUT SHOULD YOU NOT UNDERSTAND YOURSELF I WILL ALWAYS BE HERE TO LISTEN AND HELP IF I CAN.

THERE IS ONE OTHER PERSON IN THIS WORLD THROUGH WHICH YOU WILL ONE DAY SHARE YOUR FEELINGS. TIME WILL FIND HIM SO KEEP THE FAITH. I KNOW THAT YOU WILL HAVE ALL THE HAPPINESS YOU DESERVE BECAUSE YOU ARE A SISTER WITH ONE FACE. LOVE ALWAYS - ZETTA

Educational leadership is the principal's main concern during each school year. By enforcing discipline and informing the community, he fulfilled his responsibilities. Mr. Chaffee represented Highland at the Inland County Conference. He also attended school meetings on the local and county levels.

Mr. Brenner, the assistant principal, checked attendance, supervised the parking lot and taught sophomore geometry. He also helped co-ordinate the athletic program with Mr. Chaffee and Mr. Keck.

Mr. Brenner answers questions of students Debbie McDuffee, Alan Dale, and Dan Lyons concerning the dress code.

Assistant principal, Mr. Brenner, informs Mr. Chaffee about an attendance problem.

OFFICE SECRETARIES — Mrs. Wagner, Mrs. Webster, Mrs. Babcock, and Mrs. Brunskill.

At a school board work session, Mr. Vermillion, Mr. Kelly, and Mrs. Becks consider the 1972 budget.

Superintendent Vermillion headed the five member Board of Education. This committee studied the school system's financial troubles and worked for passage of the levy.

1971 HIGHLAND BOARD OF EDUCATION — Mr. Kelly, Mr. Thompson, Mr. Smelzer, Mrs. Becks, President; Dr. Loomis, Mrs. Brunskill, Clerk.

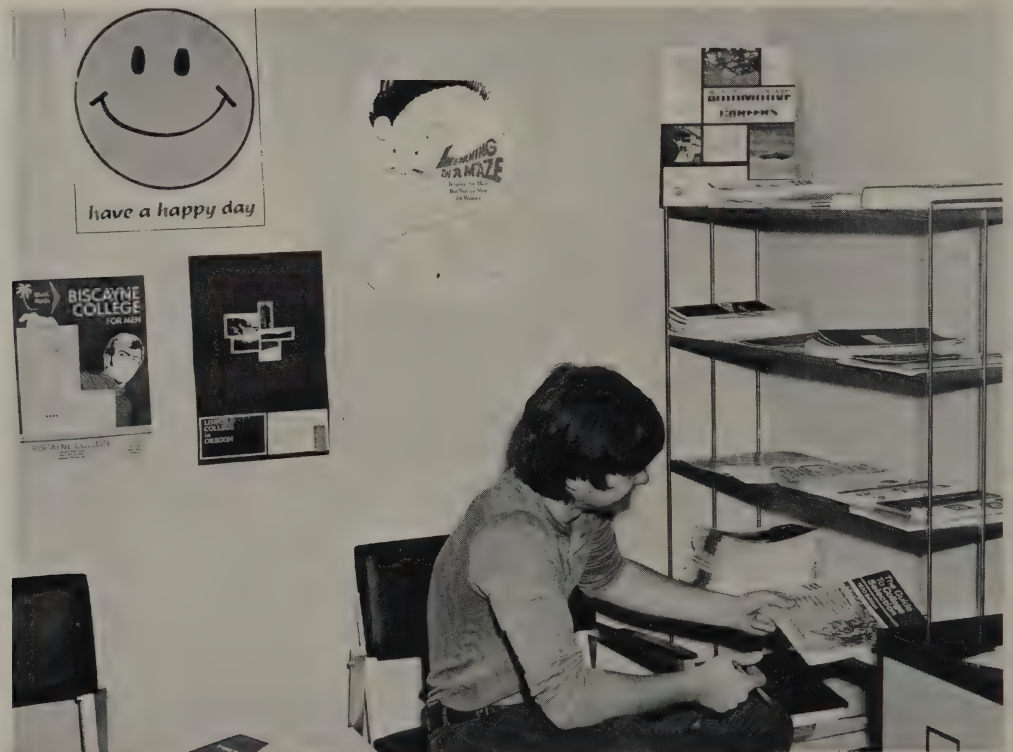

Library and Guidance

Mrs. Myers advises Doug Spurrier about several trade schools.

As Mrs. Dzur shows her some college folders, Suzy Papp watches attentively.

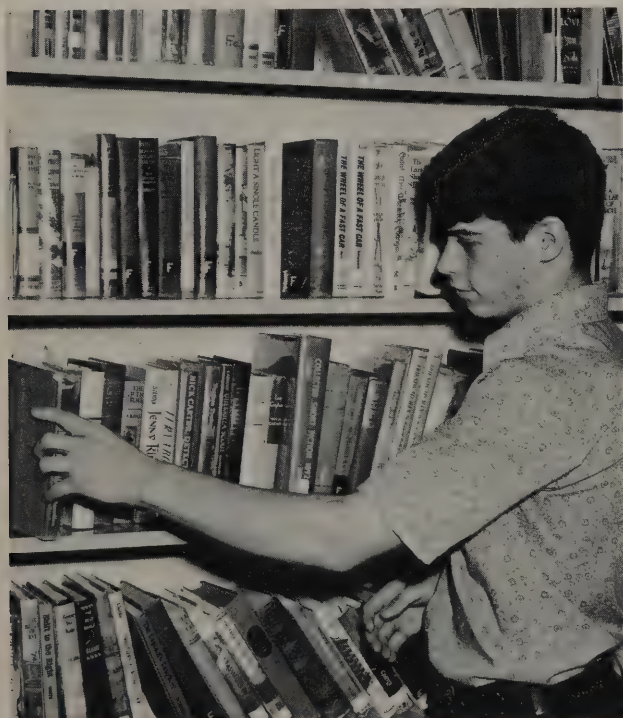

In selecting his college, Stefan Zeidner glances through a college guide.

Provide Direction for Students

The librarian, Mrs. South, distributes new material to students David Hier, Jim Smouse, Evan Hollopeter, and Marcia Beynon.

Tim Wilcox browses through the fiction area of the library, in hopes of finding an exciting mystery novel.

Head Counselor, Mrs. Myers, guided the junior and senior classes as she arranged a number of group guidance assemblies. Members of the Armed Forces spoke to interested students. University representatives from Akron, Kent, and Toledo met to give information and answer questions from college-bound seniors. She also presided at financial aid, vocational service and Student Council meetings.

Working with freshmen and sophomore students, Mrs. Dzur set up the student tutoring system and administered the DAT and Iowa Tests. During her first year she encouraged group guidance sessions on course selection and careers.

Growing numbers of reference books, magazines, newspapers and fiction were available in the library. Five hundred books were added this year. Mrs. South and her aides helped students locate these outside materials.

Keeping communication lines open was emphasized by the English department. Highland students who enrolled in these programs discovered the value of literature, vocabulary skills, basic grammar, and creative writing. The possibility of semester courses was investigated.

Miss Halterman reads a critical analysis of "Japanese Quince," while Mrs. Ludwig checks a student's composition.

Life Meet in Language

Miss Chiaramonte dictates Spanish words while the class follows along in their books.

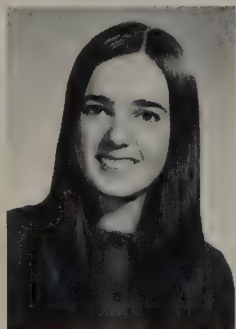

Unfamiliar sounds were communicated and became meaningful in the foreign language department. Three years of Spanish instruction were available with hopes of extending this program to four years. Two years of Latin and German were offered. Vocabulary words and conversation were emphasized in the German and Spanish text books. Latin students concentrated on translations and grammar skills.

While studying the geography of Germany, Tony Pischieri helps Miss Goldwood with a German bulletin board.

Current Events Enliven

Mr. Cutler involves the class in a discussion of world history.

Women's lib discussions, re-enacted Revolutionary War segments, sessions in a classroom Congress, interviews with Secretary of State, William Rogers, and current events were a part of the social studies program that involves students and teachers alike.

History Class Discussions

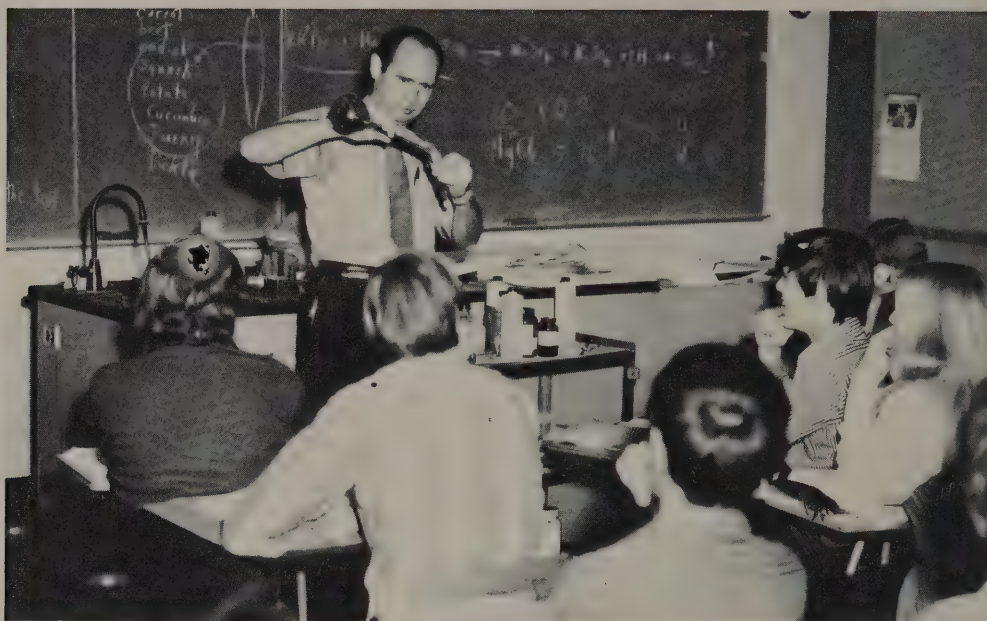

While the class observes, Mrs. Hege explains the functions of Congress.

Mr. Sigrist and the government class learn our Civil Rights.

Math and Science Students

Working with Bromine, Mr. Temple shows the class the chemical properties.

Geometric figures, factorials, logarithms, and trigonometry introduced students to the world of algebra, geometry, and modern introductory analysis. New to the math department was Mr. Clifford.

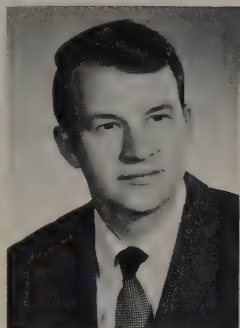

Slide rules, titrations, carbon chains, chemicals, and lab experiments all meant chemistry to the students under Mr. Temple's instruction. Plant identification, dissection, bacteria, and blood types were called to the attention of the biology students.

An introduction to the fields of science was the theme of Mr. Becker's general science course. He also conducted a physics class that explored the laws of nature and their relationship to each other.

Mrs. Neff explains the number line system to her algebra class.

Students

Giving students an opportunity for creativity, art classes experimented with macrame, oils, metals, pottery, sculpture, constructions, water color, and enameling. The finished articles were displayed in the classroom or showcase. Students participated in the Regional Scholastic Art Awards Program.

Growing numbers of interested students have enabled the music department through dues and fund-raising projects, to buy new music and to construct huge closets for the storage of choir robes and band instruments. Vocal and instrumental instruction encouraged many musicians to perform at the annual county contest in February.

The winter "pop" concert was a new idea introduced by the music department.

Mr. Ruddock directs and leads the General Mixed Chorus in a fancy version of "Jingle Bells".

Industrial Arts Provide

Working with an electronic machine, Mr. Harmon helps Don Likely, Scott Thorne, and Jeff Winland interpret its use.

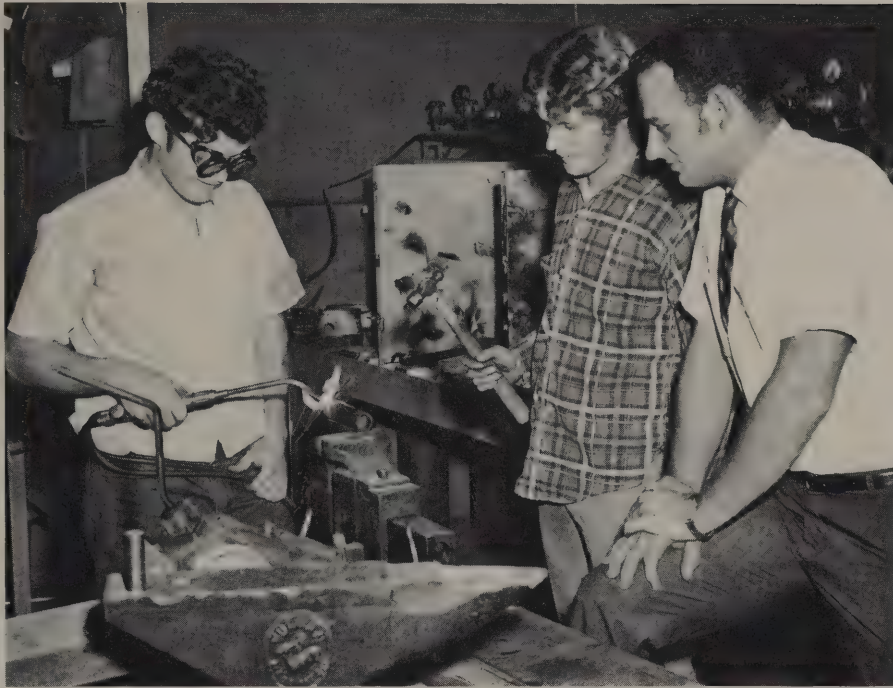

Electronics classes began with a thorough study of electrical components and the roles they played in a balanced circuit. Students then constructed circuits that received, produced, and transmitted sound. Mr. Harmon's class instruction provided a basic background for further courses in this field.

Graphic arts classes demanded an all-day schedule. Students learned from Mr. Nash the necessary skills to operate a small print shop. They practiced the latest methods in photo-lithography. These skills were used in the publication of school newspapers, a monthly board of education newsletter, school district report cards, season tickets to the games, and musical programs.

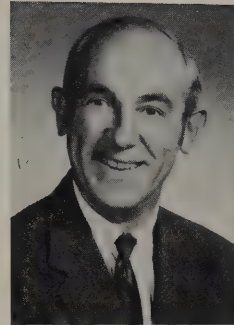

Lori Blueter and Jon Zumbrunnen watch Mr. Nash clean the printing press.

Duplicating machines, IBM transcribers, calculators, and typewriters initiated students to actual office duties. Students enjoyed a stenotype demonstration given by Hammel Business College. Class field trips visited nearby business schools in Akron.

Girls learned to manage a household through experience in meal preparation after planning a sound budget. Crocheting, embroidery, and knitting were used for dish towels, blankets, and clothes. Caring for small children and infants was also a part of this class. Home economics students served appetizing refreshments during the Christmas dance and the February open-house.

Phys. Ed. Dept.

Complying with the new state law, all sixteen-year olds were given road class instruction as part of the school's driver education program. The remaining semester was devoted to health education taught by Mr. Sigrist and Miss Gowe.

New weight-lifting equipment and mini-trampolines were added to the physical education department this year. Athletic skills and sportsmanship were developed during the year's activities in basketball, volleyball, tennis, baseball, badminton, and gymnastics.

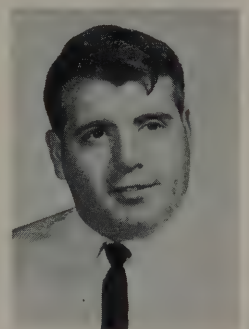

Rob Hotchkiss, Randy Burkhead, Jim Smouse, and Bill West enjoy a game of volleyball, while Mr. McFarland observes the class.

Work-study members sold refreshments for the athletic boosters at football, basketball, and wrestling events. Food and presents were given to needy families at Christmas. January and February involved the club in the county-wide Work-Study Bowling Tourney. The annual Work-Study Employer-Employee Banquet closed April activities. The club's purpose was to develop job skills through active participation in a meaningful work experience.

By seven o'clock the cooking staff arrived for work. These cooks prepared food for both the junior and senior high schools. Hamburgers were a favorite on Wednesday.

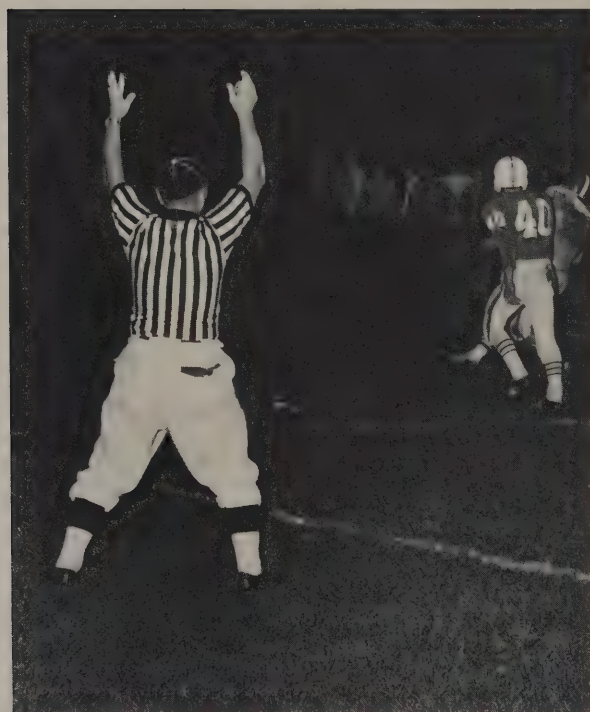

Working hours started early for the custodial staff. Transporting lunches to the junior high school and maintenance of driveways and lawns added to their numerous duties.

Hornets Take

Accumulating a 6-3-0 record, Hornets grasped second place in Inland Conference.

It was a good season with only five lettermen returning: Jeff Parker, Paul Orchard, Stuart Picard, John Grindle, and Richard Brown.

Over the last six years the record stands at 44 wins, only six losses, and just two ties. Coach McFarland attributes this to a program built around hard work, pride, and a will to win.

Highland's young, inexperienced team gained footage against tough opponents to come up with a record of 3-15 this season. Combining long hours of practice, raw skill, and enthusiasm, the boys prepared for the upcoming season under the guidance of Coach Clifford. Gary Luttner and Pat Napier were named most valuable players.

Ed May works for a take down in the 105 weight class against Wadsworth.

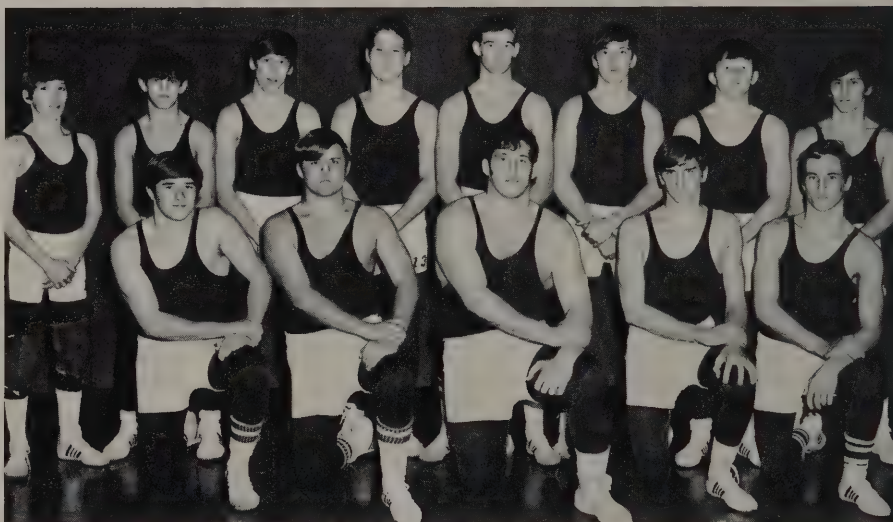

Mike Brown rides Wadsworth's 119 pound wrestler Romanoff.

Rebuilding was the key word for the wrestling team with only four returning lettermen. They compiled a 7-3-2 record, sending two wrestlers to the State Tournament. A stronger, more experienced team is expected next year.

Success at District

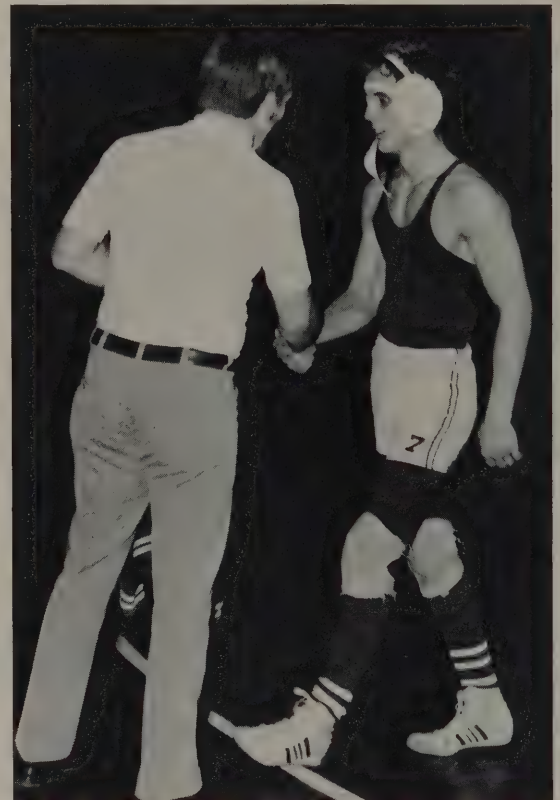

Facing strong opposition this year, Hornet grapplers participated in sectional, district, and state tournaments. Six wrestlers placed in sectional matches and continued to the district tournament at Nordonia—Steve Price, Mike Brown, Stu Picard, Joe Blynn, Dave Morris, Bruce Shade, and Rich Brown. Placing second, both Rich Brown and Joe Blynn competed at St. John's Arena in Columbus, with Rich finishing fifth in the state.

Joe Hege makes an iron shot onto the green.

Compiling a 7-10-1 record, the golf team faced stiff competition against such large schools as Wadsworth, Brunswick, and Medina. Practice was held at Sharon Golf Club and Colonial Hills during the season free of charge. Greg Depas was the best all-around golfer, scoring a record low of 35 at Valley Forge. The only senior team member, Joe Hege, showed great dedication this year. Next year, three returning lettermen promise a hopeful season.

For students who wanted to participate in sports other than the varsity sports offered, intramural and girls' teams were organized. Miss Gowe's basketball and volleyball squads challenged other schools in action-packed contests. Intramural sports gained support from the student body as teammates strived to achieve the top position in heated play-off games. Intramural sports offered this year were basketball, baseball, and ping-pong.

During doubles championship, Dave Beck and Joe Blynn play Scott Thorne and Karen Chimento.

In response to Coach Mac, Rene Roach and Karen Jones applaud.

Practicing twice a week throughout the year except July, the Highland cheerleaders had several responsibilities in addition to cheering at every game and pep assembly. They also decorated the locker room, provided refreshments for the team, made all pep signs for the halls, and solicited ads and patrons for programs. Each cheerleader must tryout every year and maintain a C average with no F's. Mrs. Ludwig was the cheerleading advisor.

National Honor Society inducted twenty-one new members on February 11. Thaddeus Garrett Jr., legislative assistant to Congresswoman Shirley Chisholm, spoke to the student body. N.H.S. sponsored Mr. Eugene Smith who provided an unusual ecology slide show. Members volunteered to act as Highland representatives for College Night in Brunswick on April 5.

Student Council reorganized into several special interest groups. Elected chairmen headed committees on ecology, a student exchange program, school assemblies, junior high workshops, the library, hall bulletin boards, and project E.F.F.E. Combined efforts led to continued ice-cream sales and the annual Christmas door contest. Rock groups were also sponsored for Homecoming and Christmas dances. A cystic fibrosis assembly informed students about the twenty mile walk-a-thon held on April 22nd.

Students in Athletics and Community

Skiers Chris Dresser, Kathy Grimm, and Barb Brown exchange moral support before attacking the slopes.

Y-Teens, an active club on both county and local levels, enjoyed roller-skating, swimming, and tobogganing. Special occasions included the semi-formal dance held at Rustic Hills and a mini-conference at Camp Craig. A car wash to increase World Fellowship funds was also sponsored.

Highland Ski Club received from Boston Mills for twenty-five dollars an hour of ski instruction during each of five sessions. Afterwards skiers enjoyed nearly two hours of free skiing on beginner, intermediate, and advanced slopes. A party on February 23 climaxed the sixth lesson. Ski Club limited its membership to upperclassmen due to its popularity.

Girl's Athletic Association for the first time organized volleyball, basketball, and softball teams that competed with other schools in the conference. Bowling teams also formed within the club. Although the club's main interest was sports; it also sponsored a hayride and a Mother-Daughter Banquet for the members.

Mrs. Glick's guidance in F.T.A. was evident in the interest which students had taken in the field of education. Besides the annual teaching days, the members also helped the special education program and corresponded with a student in India.

Spanish and Latin clubs held their yearly Christmas parties in gala atmospheres. Latin Club also went bowling and held a year-end picnic. The advisors, Mrs. Heath and Mrs. Wolf, have done a commendable job in leading these groups.

On November 19 the Highland Drama Club presented its annual Talent Show. This group attended a drama clinic at Kent State University in January where Professor Earl Curtis spoke after the musical production of "Fiddler on the Roof." In the spring Drama Club members staged "The Sisters McIntosh," a one act play, for the student body. A second production, "Rise and Shine," was also performed for the Inland Conference Festival at Columbia.

Directed by Mr. Ruddock, the senior choir, general chorus, girl's glee, and men's glee sang a variety of songs. During November the senior choir was involved with the Inland Choral Conference at Columbia High School. December meant an evening Christmas program, and caroling parties during vacation. General chorus and senior choir members also presented a short holiday program for a student assembly. Several ensembles returned for performances during the spring program and the February County Solo and Ensemble Contest at Buckeye High School.

Pop Concert Performance Scores a "Hit"

The 1971 Highland Marching Band

Band practice during long morning hours in August was rewarded by an enjoyable trip to Cedar Point. This combination of fun and work continued throughout the year as the group performed at football games and Band-o-rama. The Tempo Club sponsored a dinner in November for band members and their parents. Money-raising campaigns, including Tag Day and paper drives, helped to finance these projects.

The majorettes helped to make the half-time shows a success with their original acts, startling stunts, and lovely costumes. These girls also participated in contests and gave lessons.

The concert band rendered a mixture of marches and show tunes at their new pops concert. Musical hits and all-time favorites characterized the spring concert.

Co-head Majorette Debbie Nagy, Linda Alber, Beth Sir Louis, Kathy Grimm, Morena Napier, LuAnn Alber, Co-head Majorette Nina Anderson.

Clarinetist Sue Hood plays under the lights.

With the band's accompaniment, the majorettes perform their Homecoming routine.

While in the "Smile" formation, the band performs "Put on a Happy Face."

April 12 was a special day at school when E.F.F.E. (Experiment in Free Form Education) happened at Highland. Applauded by students, faculty, administration, and the interested community leaders who helped, the program stimulated involvement in education through courses not offered in the general curriculum. Students attended such courses as Karate, Family Life Education, and Custom Car Painting. This day lived up to the expectations of Debbie McDuffee, Greg Kufchak and their committee.

Defense attorney Stevens thoroughly examines Policeman Elmer Sweeney.

Scheming children created problems in a turn-of-the-century comedy entitled, "Meet Me in St. Louis." The three act senior play on November 12 involved a cast of fifteen. Courtroom drama developed over a trial concerning "The Night of January 16th." Nineteen juniors participated in the production on March 8. Both class plays appeared on stage under Mrs. Ludwig's direction.

1972 Prom Leads "Over The Rainbow"

Students, faculty, and guests enjoy the prom banquet in the fantasyland of Oz.

After-dinner conversation amuses Jon Zumbrunnen and Jean Hahn at the prom banquet.

Paul Orchard and Karen Jones dance to the music of Isaiah.

Tin Man greets Tom McDuffee and Diane Purta as they approach the Land of Oz.

Dazzling Emerald City set the scene of the 1972 prom festivities April 28 and 29. The catered banquet on Friday was preceeded by an afternoon of swimming, bowling, and Putt-Putt golfing for juniors, seniors, and faculty members. Friday evening's program was highlighted by the senior prophecy composed by a committee of juniors. On Saturday the prom-night atmosphere "Over the Rainbow" was enhanced by dance music provided by Isaiah. For all who participated, it was a most memorable weekend.

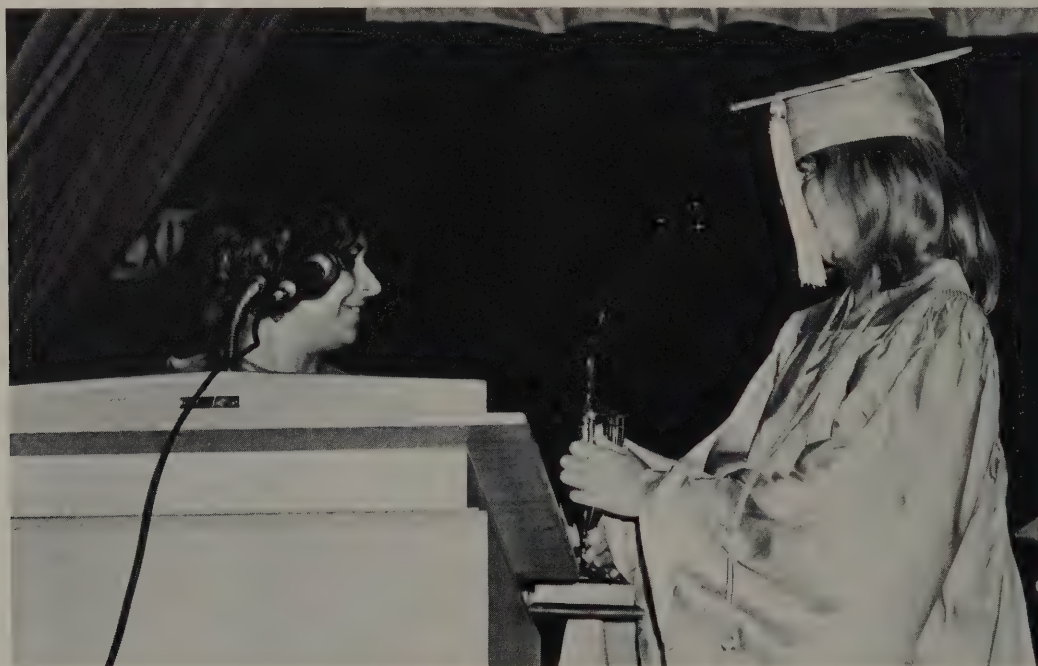

Mary Beckwith and Steve Adams share a quiet moment between dances.

Stuart Picard, winner of the Wade Ormsby Award, and Paul Orchard, winner of the Charles Hardman Award, display their trophies for athletic achievement.

Mr. Chaffee gratefully accepts new golf equipment presented by Debbie Bruner and Pat Carraway on behalf of the faculty and the Class of '72.

SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS — Front: L. Schreiner, E. Coddling, D. Pelot, D. Ray.
Second: P. Orchard, R. Brown, M. Leveskas.

Awards Bestowed for Senior Excellence

Home economics students Leanne Newberry and Dee Csontos are recipients of the Betty Lamp Award and the Crystal Award, respectively.

1972 Senior Awards recognized seniors outstanding in many areas. In addition to musical and athletic awards for service, N.H.S. members, publication staffs, student council, art winners, home economics students, and cheerleaders were mentioned. Mrs. Faith Vale, treasurer of the Medina County Art League, presented Dale Ray with the first Medina County Art Scholarship. First-place intramural teams in basketball and baseball were also acknowledged.

Valedictorian Diane Purta speaks of individual freedom in her commencement address.

Dr. Viering pauses to observe the audience during his speech on "Your Second Education."

Dr. Viering Addresses Class of 1972

Class of '72 anticipates graduation throughout Dr. Viering's talk.

President of the Board of Education, Mr. T. T. Thompson congratulates Tim Kennedy.

One hundred fifty seniors dressed in brown and gold robes attended final graduation ceremonies. The June 1st program opened with a piano solo by Luann Roach. Vocal music selections were contributed by Susie Good and the senior choir group. Speeches by the two valedictorians, Libby Schreiner and Diane Purta, preceeded Dr. Viering's address on "Your Second Education." Principal Richard Chaffee presented special awards for scholastic, athletic, musical, and artistic achievements. A crowded gymnasium watched as individuals received their diplomas and became 1972 graduates of Highland High School.

Mary Beckwith, Debbie Bash, and Marilyn Decker march seriously to "Pomp and Circumstance."

Bill West and Libby Schreiner solemnly lead fellow graduates from the stage as marshals Tim Anderson and Terry Moell look on.

From the Editors —

In today's society people are rapidly becoming more preoccupied with their personal goals and less aware or concerned with others around them. Fortunately, though, society is slowly becoming conscious of a solution to this indifference — communication. As the differences in interests among individuals become more obvious, the need to be more open to these differences becomes greater, too. A mutual realization of the value of sharing ideas, knowledge, and experiences is the solution to the ever-growing riddle of better communication throughout the world.

Highland High School represents 800 individual concerns and sets of values. The need for communication of these differences is just as important for us at H.H.S. as anywhere else. With the theme of communication as our goal, the staff has tried to capture a glimpse of Highland in 1971-72 as it was to everyone.

As you leaf through the pages of this book and reflect on this school year, please consider the desperate need for communication and the positive role you might play in its solution. It is our hope that Highlander '72 has communicated to each of you a special memory of this year.

Kirk Ewing helps Luann Roach keep her score down.

Farewell –

Mr. Richard Chaffee, in his fifteen year tenure as principal of Highland, has witnessed a multitude of innovations and alterations. He organized the first varsity football team, which subsequently won the championship. Acceptance into North Central Association of High Schools was another of his many achievements. In the years he served as principal two new additions have been built, the football field, stadium, and lights have been erected and the enrollment has increased from 300 to 720 students. He was responsible for the pastor-for-a-day program.

Mrs. Jean Myers, in her twenty-two years at Highland, has been the initiator of new ideas and organizations. In her first years, she taught a variety of business education and Spanish courses. She served as principal for a year. In 1953 she began the yearbook and advised its staff for fifteen years. Her next project was the attempted renovation of Student Council. Group dynamics, creative leadership, EFFE and workshops were just a few of the experiments. Some of her other accomplishments included the organization of the secretarial assistants club, participation in the Ohio Association of Students Councils, and service as senior advisor and cheerleading advisor. Also she was a guidance counselor.

For two decades, these dedicated individuals have served their community and its school system. The staff of the Highlander joins the rest of the student body in wishing them much success in their future at Cloverleaf High School.

Henie

To one of my friends I have a lot of fun with. We have been friends a long time. And I hope we can continue to be such friends. Always remember the fun times we have had and shall have in 4th grade study hall. Don't forget the day we put that _____ on our finger-nails so we wouldn't bite them. Day did that _____ burn. Of course, you won't ever forget the time I almost got caught going to your house for pizza??!

That's what makes knowing you so much fun, getting me in trouble. You make a real neat friend to have, so don't rock it by changing. You have a wonderful personality. Keep it. You never know when you'll need it. Keep smiling. Henie for if you ever get hurt real bad, a smile will help you. Take my word for it, it does help.

One more thing, you must never for-get our great, wonderful, full of heart, loving - MR. POELLER. Always remember the fun times we have had on the bond bus. I'll never forget them. I shall also remember the time you listened to me when I had my problems with David. I really appreciated it. Keep smiling, and live each day to its fullest!

Friends forever,

Love,

Love

Renee,

So one of the sweetest and greatest friends I have, is my best friend house, really you know, you so crazy, I funny & funny & every thing else in that line, man you just like me!!! Don't ever forget Band (How could you?) Try to forget some of the funny things I've done (AKRON Rubber Band.) And if you can try to forget about "MAGILLA" (AIVIT CUTE) ha. Well you really cute and you've got everything going for you. I'm sure you'll go far in this world, cruel, world. May you live each day as it was your last.

Renee - what do you want a "real cool guy" for? - you've got me! Don't say yuck! you don't know how lucky you are. Whenever you need help in your studio, call me & I'll come up from mopise (don't worry!) Don't ever forget all the good times we've had - at gymnasium, you and my house (Mondays my previous kid?) on the band bus, marching practice, I especially at school year one of the greatest friends I have - you remember that! So keep smiling & don't ever forget...

can really get to know you better. I know that I want to be good friends. Please be good and God Bless.
Love Always
Dianne

Renee,
Hey, what can
I say except I hope you remember me
even though I'm not in this book. I'm looking forward to the rest of the year with you and the rest of the seniors at great Highland High. Take it easy and God bless. Don't forget our fabulous Govt. class together, I certainly won't. God Bless.
Love ya + Chat,
Dianne
